The online environment offers opportunities for accessing, creating, and sharing information. The rights of minors to retrieve, create, and interact with information posted on the Internet in schools and libraries are extensions of their First Amendment rights.

As defenders of intellectual freedom and the First Amendment, libraries have a responsibility to offer unrestricted access to online activity in accordance with local, state, and federal laws and to advocate for greater access where it is abridged.

- Computer sessions are two hours. At the end of the session, the computer will automatically log out of the session. Patrons can request the session be extended or start a new session if no one is waiting. Requests should be made at the reference desk at least five minutes before the session ends to ensure work is not lost.
- Computers are automatically reset after every session, erasing all information, documents, forms, etc. created or stored during the session. This information cannot be recovered. Patrons are encouraged to use an external device, such as a flash drive, to store information and/or write down critical information such as passwords.
- Laptops and their accessories can be checked out using your library card and used anywhere inside the library up to 8 hours a day. Non library cardholders aged 18 and older may use a laptop on the second floor only by providing a valid ID and completing a Laptop Checkout Form.
- Computers in the children's area are for use by patrons 13 and younger. Computers in the adult area are for use by patrons 14 and older. Patrons using a computer outside of their age range may be asked to end their session if someone is waiting to use a computer.
